

Power Co. Says: 'This Is Gross Unfairness'

The Mississippi River Power Co. says that the proposed rate schedule for the new power plant is "grossly unfair" and "discriminatory." The company claims that the rates are based on an incorrect valuation of the plant and its equipment.

The company's argument is based on the fact that the rates are based on a valuation of the plant that is significantly lower than the actual cost of the plant and its equipment. The company claims that the rates are based on a valuation of the plant that is based on the cost of the plant at the time it was built, rather than on the current market value of the plant and its equipment.

The company also claims that the rates are discriminatory because they are based on a valuation of the plant that is different from the valuation of other power plants in the area. The company claims that the rates are based on a valuation of the plant that is based on the cost of the plant at the time it was built, rather than on the current market value of the plant and its equipment.

A high-contrast, black and white image of a textured surface, possibly a book cover or endpaper. The image shows a grid-like pattern of small, dark, rectangular elements, likely representing the binding or the texture of the paper. The overall appearance is grainy and abstract, with a strong sense of depth and texture.

J. Mervin Hill, Jr., one of the leading labor economists named by the Massachusetts State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers, testified that he has never issued a certificate of registration as a Professional Engineer on the basis of graduation from an accredited school elsewhere.

There is a graduate of the University of Michigan, who is connected with the University of

The Bay High Tigers will clash with Richmond Harris' St. Martin's against this Friday night at 7:30 at the Bay High Gym.

The games will include both girls' games and boys' games. The girls will play first.

For more sports to our home at the best basketball game as you can find on the coast," Coach Caldwell said. "The Bay girls have scored at two other so one less and the St. Martin girls have scored of 15 wins so one less."

The Bay boys have a record of four-loses to one less and the St. Martin boys have a record of 24 wins to two losses.

"An ever increasing need" is the way Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Thomas D. White describes the requirement for young men and women in the field of aviation and its associated technologies.

General White discussed this requirement in a recent meeting. Gen. Walter F. Agnew, chief, national commander of the Civil Air Patrol, congratulating the Air Force's civilian auxiliary on its sixtieth birthday.

BOG MARCH
"Our nation today," he said, "is faced with an ever increasing need for citizen young men and women to take their places in the field of aviation. The Air Force looks to the youth service program of the Civil Air Corps as the best answer to the demand for trained and motivated citizens."

wood model. She wore a white hat, black accessories and a sprig of pink carnations. Mrs. Wheat chose a floral like arrangement trimmed at the neck line with a band of leather cut out and adorned with pearls and rhinestones. An ice blue outfit, black accessories and sprig of pink carnations completed her outfit.

For traveling to Florida, the bride wore a tan wool suit, white hat and gloves, black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Atlanta, Ga. for the next two years where the driller is stationed with the Armed Forces.

The County meeting of the War Civil Control of the United States will be held at the County Courthouse, New York City, on Monday, June 1, 1915, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

2. Once the problem is identified, the next step is to define the objectives and goals of the project. This helps to clarify what needs to be achieved and provides a clear direction for the work.

3. The third step is to develop a plan or strategy to address the problem. This involves breaking down the problem into smaller, manageable tasks and determining the resources and timeline needed to complete them.

4. The fourth step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the strategy into action and monitoring progress to ensure that the project is on track.

5. The final step is to evaluate the results of the project. This involves assessing the outcomes against the objectives and goals and identifying any lessons learned for future projects.

2. Feed things you themselves don't want... and let your horses eat to good health and vigor. Feed them the best and best-stored feed, because it's the only way to keep them healthy and happy. And that's the only way to keep them looking as fit as the world. See it and you'll agree. See more "Horse Sense."
